CASE STUDY | DOLPHIN DRILLING

For nearly fifteen years, EOS Europe (EOS) has supported Dolphin Drilling Ltd. (DDL), by supplying electrical construction and project management services in addition to maintenance support personnel and material services both in the UK and worldwide.

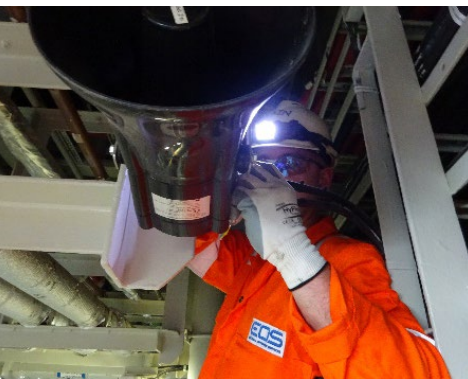

In 2001 EOS began supporting project work scopes out of Aberdeen, in Scotland. We cemented our experience in the North Sea in 2014 when EOS won an RS Contract for the Byford Dolphin.

Instrumental in reinforcing our relationship with Drilling Contractors, our strong track record, technical expertise and in-house capabilities have enabled us to secure major Shipyard contracts.

These awards have deepened our relationship with DDL and allows us to utilise our vast experience gained through our 15 year history of delivering large scale, complex projects in shipyards both in the North Sea and internationally.

Supporting major project operations, EOS also deliver a range of ongoing fleet wide support functions.

Our personnel are heavily involved in supporting DDL by inspecting and maintaining EX Equipment, updating EX registers and completing minor electrical workscopes to keep operations running smoothly.
